

Southern Railway Quint May Hang Up Record Tonight at Big Tournament

BOWLERS TO HAVE COMMERCIAL NIGHT IN TOURNEY EVENT

Southern Railway Quint Enters Lists Strong Favorite Over All Others.

CHANGES MADE IN SCHEDULE

Masonic League Turns Out Twenty Teams for Big Session on Alleys.

"Commercial Night" will be celebrated tonight in the A. C. B. A. tourney, in honor of the ten teams of the Commercial League, which are carded to perform.

The Southern Railway quint, which recently was awarded the pennant, will go into the match strong favorites, with the P. E. P. Co. team running second, and the Evening Star as third choice.

Other teams of the league to take part in the competitions tonight will be: General Baking Company, Woodward and Lothrop, Budd and Mettewler, Barber and Ross, Hecht and Company, and the Weisbach Company.

The Commercial League is considered one of the best combinations in the city, and boasts a number of excellent rollers in its ranks. If rolling in best form any one of several of the quintas may be counted on to break into the inner circle.

Several minor changes in today's schedule have been given out from the secretary's office, as follows: The Lewis Vogelberger-Zeb Clark doubles team, slated to roll on alley 2, at 2 o'clock, will not perform. Alley 2 will be vacant. George Lamb will replace Lewis Vogelberger on alley 1, at 4:45 o'clock, in the duckpin singles. In the 5:30 session, William M. Farrow will take the place of John J. Donovan, rolling one-man ducks. In the evening, the Washington Railway and Electric Company quint will roll on alley 8, in place of the Christian Xaver team, which would in their match last week. Two tenpin teams, the Roadsteads, Nos. 1 and 2 will be seen in action in the evening session along with the Commercial rollers. They are to occupy alleys 11 and 12.

Local Masons turned out in large numbers last night to witness the rolling of the teams of the Masonic Duckpin League, in the big tourney. Shortly after 9 o'clock, William W. Jermine, grand master of the District, made a few remarks and commended the teams, and praised the manner in which the Masons had rallied to the support of their teams. He spoke to support of the teams.

William F. Gude, president of the Atlantic Coast Bowling Association, declared that the Masonic entry card of $200 was the highest ever received from any organization, in any tournament ever held in this country. The statement elicited much applause. At the conclusion of his address, the Grotto Band of the Masons struck up, "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," and amid a wild outburst of enthusiasm the song and the band were received by the pin warriors took to the pinways. The first ten teams of the league were assigned to the alleys at 7 o'clock, and had completed their games here to the "opening" ceremonies were held.

Has a perfect score of 300 ever been rolled in national tournament competition? Has a man—say a superman—ever faced the pyramid formation in a championship match and grooved twelve perfect balls for a grand sweep? Even in the everyday world of bowling where accidents are bound to happen, this feat is rarely reported. But consider the nerves of steel that could stand up under the test when under the fire of tournament competition.

And yet this seemingly impossible feat has been accomplished, and by a man who will be seen in action in the A. C. B. A. tourney, tomorrow night. The name of this celebrity is W. J. Kunk. He is the only man ever known to have rolled "the perfect score of 300," in a national tournament match. He will roll with the famous White Elephants of the Quaker City, who are over here to take part in the "Philadelphia Night" celebrations, which are to be observed tomorrow evening.

The White Elephants have attended every A. C. B. A. tourney ever staged and have always shared in the money. They are expected to have an excellent chance of competing the existing tenpin team record, set Monday night by the imperials of Baltimore, when they rolled for 2,700.

Eight teams from the Quaker City will perform tomorrow night, commencing at 8:15 o'clock. E. C. Johnson, the well-known tenpinner, will be here with the Manufacturers' Club team.

Ex-Senator Childs, president of the Childs restaurant, who will be the picked team on the alleys. They will roll on alleys 5 and 6, with Thompson's Hoosters, a quint organized by the general manager of the Brunswick-Balke, Collender Company. Both teams are from Gotham, and both are shooting the parent pins.

The Thompson segregation recently won the Inter-city Matches, played in Philadelphia, between two teams from Washington, two from the Quaker City, and one from Manhattan, just closing out the White Elephants by 15 pins.
